Despite the challenges brought on by the global pandemic spring season’s program reached the successful turnout that week, but also something about not only seeing my work as an undergraduate TA in the Jewish Studies Program not only provided me with a fun and relaxing experience but also led me to narrow down where I want to be career-wise in the coming years.

We are excited to announce our Spring 2021 course schedule. Whether you are a new UD student or an old one, we hope you will be spending a lot of time interacting with us. To those who have been regularly interacting with us, thank you for your time and support. We look forward to seeing you online and in person in the future! We are also excited to introduce a new course this semester: "Spring 2021: From the Holocaust to the 21st Century: A New Book by Rebecca Davis, who will be speaking about her book Public Confessions: The Heterosexuality and the Idea of a "Judeo-Christian America." The event was well-attended and successful.

In the summer of 2019, Hunter was selected as a recipient of the Hellen Pattison Undergraduate Research Scholarship by the Department of Philosophy at the University of Delaware. This generous gift provided him with the opportunity to pursue his research interests in the Holocaust and Jewish Studies. Hunter has always been fascinated by the study of history, particularly the history of the Holocaust. He was particularly interested in the personal stories of survivors and the impact of the Holocaust on their lives. He was also interested in understanding the ways in which the Holocaust has shaped the modern world.

Hunter's interest in the Holocaust began during his undergraduate career at the University of Delaware. He was enrolled in a course on the Holocaust and Jewish Studies taught by Dr. Rachel Milberg, and became fascinated by the subject. He began conducting research on the experiences of survivors and the impact of the Holocaust on their lives. He was particularly interested in the ways in which the Holocaust has shaped the modern world.

During his undergraduate career, Hunter also had the opportunity to work with Dr. Rachel Milberg on a research project. This project involved interviewing Holocaust survivors and studying the impact of the Holocaust on their lives. Hunter was deeply moved by the stories of the survivors he interviewed, and was inspired by their resilience and determination in the face of adversity.

Hunter's research into the Holocaust has been recognized with several awards. He was selected as a winner of the Dr. Vivian Z. Klaflf Memorial Award for Outstanding Research in Jewish Studies, and was also named as a winner of the Memorial Museum’s “Never Again” Essay Prize. He was also recognized as a winner of the American Historical Association's Undergraduate Research Scholarship.

In addition to his research, Hunter has also been involved in several community organizations. He is a member of the Jewish Studies Program at the University of Delaware, and is also a member of the American Historical Association. He has also been involved in several community organizations, including the Jewish Studies Program at the University of Delaware, and the American Historical Association. Dr. Vivian Z. Klaff... selected a spot in an MA program in the field of Conflict Resolution and Mediation at Tel Aviv University. I am very excited to be career-wise in the coming years. At this point, I am applying to the Master’s program in Peace and Nonprofit Management at Hebrew University of Jerusalem. I hope to be part of this unique program not only provided me with a fun academic environment, but also exposed me to many of the world’s most pressing issues. I believe this will be crucial in my path to becoming a peace advocate and conflict mediator. I plan to keep in touch with many of them to this day. I have attained a best friend, shown in the photo above, and I plan on visiting him wherever he is in the future. Overall, such a experience opened my eyes to the possibilities that I can make a difference in this world one day. I truly plan on making a career out of the Jewish nonprofit world in the future, and I am excited to contribute to the philanthropy of the future.

Felicia Martin (English) has published a book called "Shanghai Sonatas: The Cultural and Musical Life of Shanghai During the Chinese Communist Regime," which has received critical acclaim. The book was published by Oxford University Press and explores the cultural and musical landscape of Shanghai during the Chinese Communist regime. The book has been praised for its insightful analysis and vivid portrayal of the cultural and musical life of Shanghai during this period. Felicia Martin is a professor of musicology at the University of Michigan, and her research focuses on the cultural and musical history of China. She is the author of several books and articles on Chinese music and culture. She is also a musicologist and has performed as a pianist. Her book "Shanghai Sonatas: The Cultural and Musical Life of Shanghai During the Chinese Communist Regime" is a groundbreaking work that provides a fresh perspective on the cultural and musical history of China during the Chinese Communist regime. Welcome Felicia Martin to the University of Delaware as an Associate Professor in the Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures. We are excited to have you join our faculty and contribute to the vibrant community of scholars and students here at the University of Delaware."
