

GLOBAL POPULISM

LECTURE SERIES 2017-18 FREE AND OPEN TO THE PUBLIC

THE END OF THE END OF HISTORY

Kim Lane Scheppele,
Princeton University

October 2, 2017

3:00 – 4:30pm

Smith 140

After the collapse of the Soviet Union, Francis Fukuyama pronounced the “end of history” when it seemed that the world was moving toward a consensus on the establishment of liberal, democratic, constitutional governments. The lecture will examine Hungary, Poland, Russia, Turkey, Venezuela and Ecuador as models of the new illiberal constitutionalism. This lecture shows why liberal constitutionalists have been losing the battle for hearts and minds of angry publics and proposes the standard of “self-sustaining democracy” to spearhead the normative critique of these new regimes.

Professor Kim Lane Scheppele is the Laurance S. Rockefeller Professor of Sociology and International Affairs in the Woodrow Wilson School and the University Center for Human Values at Princeton. From 2017-2019, she will serve as the elected President of the Law and Society Association.

Titles and times subject to change; check the calendar at www.cgas.udel.edu for latest details.

This series is co-sponsored by Journalism Program; College of Arts & Sciences-Humanities; Center for Political Communication; School of Public Policy & Administration; and Departments of Anthropology; English; History; Languages, Literatures & Cultures; Political Science & International Relations; and Sociology & Criminal Justice

UNIVERSITY OF DELAWARE

Center for Global & Area Studies

COLLEGE OF ARTS & SCIENCES