

THE LATIN AMERICAN & IBERIAN STUDIES
PROGRAM presents

THE COLOMBIAN TRUTH COMMISSION

A Tense Dialogue Between Transitional Justice
Legacies and the Challenges of Peace Building in Colombia with Diana Marcela Gómez Correal

MARCH 25, 2020 | 103 GORE HALL | 4:00PM – 5:30PM

Join Diana Marcela Gómez Correal as she addresses the main achievements and successes of the Colombian Truth Commission as well as the challenges that this institution faces as it tries to clarify what happened during the armed conflict, recognize victims and the collective responsibilities of the perpetrators, encourage coexistence, and propose non-repetition measures.

Diana Marcela Gómez Correal is an assistant professor at Andes University in Bogotá, Colombia. She earned a Ph.D. in anthropology from the University of North Carolina - Chapel Hill. Her current research focuses on transitional justice, peace, gender and feminist studies, social transformation and alternatives to development. Since 2002, she has been part of a variety of women's and human rights movements in Colombia.

Co-Sponsored by the Departments of Anthropology,
Women & Gender Studies and
Political Science &
International Relations

UNIVERSITY OF DELAWARE
ARTS & SCIENCES